After the successful workshop last year, GRS will organize the 3rd Workshop on Safety of Extended Dry Storage of Spent Nuclear Fuel.

The workshop will take place at the GRS Garching (<https://www.grs.de/en/node/76>).

The main goal of the workshop is to bring experts together and discuss recent developments and current topics in the field extended dry storage of SNF.

We invite all participants to give a short overview of their current research activities, results, open questions or future projects. The duration of the talks should be around 20 to 30 minutes. All talks are plenary talks and a sufficient time frame for discussions will be granted.

We will provide a citable proceeding of all contributions. It is intended to hand out the proceedings at the workshop. Therefore, we kindly ask all presenters to provide a compact of their work in advance. The compact should comprise at least 1500 signs and include important formulas, figures, diagrams and references. The compact can be uploaded at the registration website.
